

JOURNEYZING: THE NEWS!

Wine bottles in the Veneto

Through a Rome Doorway

Arched Corridor in fort,
San Juan, Puerto Rico

As we move toward summer, here's an update:

☀ Coming Up: I was accepted at four juried art shows and will be displaying my photography each weekend in June. The full schedule is on page two of this Newsletter and I hope to see you at one, some or all of the shows.

☀ I just received word from the Fort Dearborn-Chicago Photo Forum that one of my images was given an Award of Excellence as one of the top 30 images in its International Photography Competition for 2010. The winning image is to the left, Through a Rome Doorway. The winning images will be on display through June in Chicago at the Morpho Gallery. More details about this award and the Forum can be found at my website/blog: <http://blog.journeyzing.com> and at the Forum's site, <http://chicagophotoforum.org>.

☀ Some of my photographs on display and for sale at Michael Harker's Orange Crate Gallery in Cedar Rapids.

☀ My black and white images of Des Moines decorate the Downtown Marriott's Rock River Grill, and may be purchased by contacting me.

☀ Images may also be seen and purchased from my on-line site: <http://gallery.JourneyZing.com>
